The Monthly Newsletter of the Barony Beyond the Mountain

www.bbm.eastkingdom.org

March 2021

Anno Societatis 55

*“White peason, both good for the pot and the purse,
by sowing too timelie, prooue often the wurse.
Biause they be tender and hateth the cold,
Prooue March er ye sowe them, for being too bold.”
~Five Hundred Points of Husbandry, 1557*

March brings the first rumors of spring, and the traditional labors shown on medieval calendar pages are pruning and early sowing. Vines would be pruned, trees would be coppiced, and the earliest crops would be sown, including peas. Peas were one of the most common medieval vegetables, and are included in Charlemagne's Capitulary De Villis, which lists the items to be grown on his estates. Marie-Pierre Ruas of the French National Centre for Scientific Research notes: “These two legumes (peas and broad beans) are regularly identified in sites from the historic epoch. Their frequency clearly increases after the Gallo-Roman centuries. By the farinaceous nature of their grains and the possibility of storing them for a long time, they constitute along with cereals the populations' basic vegetable food.” The Viandier and the Menagier de Paris both offer instructions for their preparation.

Peas are still a popular early crop, with many varieties available, and still a staple of the home garden. Some even still prepare pease porridge, although in modern times we prefer it newer than nine days old.

The Custom Issue

In addition to pruning and sowing, March also brings us tax season. As inescapable as the sun rising in the morning, and setting in the evening, the yearly ritual of accounting is as inevitable as, well, death and taxes. Therefore, what better time to publish the Baronial Custom, as is required by... the Baronial Custom. Filler at a busy time of year AND a fulfilled requirement – what more could any Chronicler ask for?

As such, you will notice that many of our usual columns have been pre-empted, in favor of bringing you the luscious language of rules. Fear not, the regular round of random discourse will return for the month of April.

In the meantime, you are encourage to please take some time to peruse the custom, and meditate on how it still fits – or doesn't fit – the Barony. It is intended to be a living document, and as such, the mechanism for modifying it is built into it. If you have suggestions for changes, additions, or deletions, please do not hesitate to draw them to the attention of the Seneschal. Do not feel that you need to couch your suggestion in specific language – we have people for that!. What we need from you are your suggestions. Bring us the change you would like to see in the Barony!
